Good morning

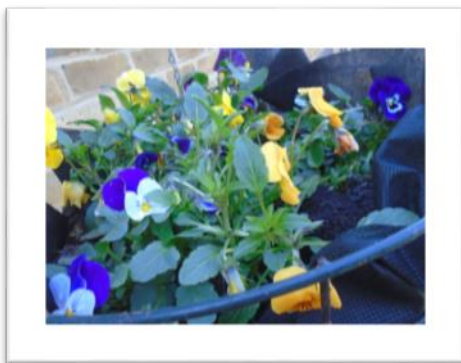

I hope my e-mail finds you and your family safe and well.

Please find attached next week's Home Learning Task Sheet. It has been such a delight talking to so many of you this week. Many families have been contacted by their child's class teacher this week to say hello and discuss your home learning experiences. This will continue throughout next week when they are in school. We are missing seeing the children and parents so much but take comfort in the many pictures of beaming faces, projects and school work we are sent.

There are a number of online resources which will help your child focus more independently at times. These online resources can be found at www.thenational.academy and www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize

Both can be accessed online and have full lessons which your child can participate in. These are a good compliment to the tasks we send out. The most important thing is that your child is happy and their well-being is crucial. Try your best with the home learning. There will be times when it is best to down tools and move onto something different.

We have received beautiful donations of plants and flowers from Belmont House and Plants2go which have been planted and are adorning our school. Our new allotment has a number of crops such as shallots, courgettes and carrots. We are anticipating a bumper yield this year. Have a lovely weekend.

Take care and stay safe.

Best wishes
