| Here is a video about a little boy called Shaun who is deaf. https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/clips/zgmjmp3 | |
| Have a talk about some of my questions. You could write your answers or talk about them with a family member. | |
| What is the same about Shaun and his friends? | |
|  | |
| What is different about Shaun and his friends? | |
|  | |
| How do Shaun's friends help him feel less different? | |
|  | |
| What things do you need to help you learn? | |
|  | |
| Some big words we use to describe what Shaun's friends show him are value and respect . They know that he is different but they don't treat him that way. They try to help him work around things he finds tricky instead of teasing him or telling him he can't do it. This is called showing respect. In the box below, draw or write one way that you show respect or that you value someone. | |
